[Co]lonel's apology is cheerfully accepted.—[It] is perfectly satisfactory. We know that [wh]en an editor spends the whole day in [go]ing around town in search of a fight, it is [a]bsurd to expect to find much editorial mat[t]er in his paper of the next morning. We should think though that, in a city where the duties of writing and fighting are about equally mixed in his profession, an editor would naturally endeavor to "facilitate business" by learning to do both at one and the same time.

Seriously, Col. McCardle has been very badly treated by the military authorities, and, as he cannot hold them responsible for their ill treatment, he is determined not to be trifled with by Tom, Dick, and Harry. While he was in the hands of the military authorities, these historical individuals availed themselves of the opportunity to attack him—some of them through the columns of the radical newspaper of Vicksburg—and hence the defiance which he throws abroad in his card. We have long known Col. McCardle, and have known him only as an able editor and a gallant gentleman. In common with all who condemn his arbitrary arrest and imprisonment by Gen. Ord, we wish him a safe and speedy deliverance from his troubles.

RAILROADS.

IMPORTANT TO

CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW

Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk

FREIGHT LINE,

VIA PETERSBURG, Va.,

Comprising the following great Freight Routes:

THE POWHATAN

Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,

PETERSBURG AND WELDON,

RALEIGH AND GASTON,

NORTH CAROLINA,

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND WELDON,
ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,
CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,
And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro', Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Winnsboro', Columbia, Sumterville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c. &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a SEA ROUTE. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "VIA PETERSBURG."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways.

☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N B.—With regard to last named points, freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and N. Y. Steamers.

For rates and all further information, apply to any Freight Agent on the Line, or at the COMPANY SHOPS, N. C.,

Nov. 9th, 1867.

MOST OF YOU HAVING AGREED WITH MY predecessor, Mr. Webb to take new for your old bonds, I take this method of informing you we are now ready for the exchange.

To capitalists I would say, we will sell $300,000 of eight per cent. coupon bonds, secured by mortgage on the Road, and payable in five, ten, or twenty years, as the purchaser may desire,—interest payable semi-annually.

The debt of the Company is about $700,000.—Bonds to fund this debt will be issued.

The property mortgaged to secure the payment of these bonds is worth in currency seven millions of dollars. There can be no better security.

The bonds will be sold only at par.

An Elegant Tonic in debilitated states of the Digestive Organs, or of the system generally.—For the loss of appetite it is the most wholesome and effectual Tonic in the world. It strengthens nature and enables the system to triumph over disease. In wakefulness attended with tremors and general nervous derangement, it is peculiarly adapted, giving strength and tone to the nerves. To delicate Ladies and Children it is invaluable—and in fact whenever a pleasant and agreeable Tonic is wanted, this should be used.

Dr. Johnston B. Jones, one of the most scientific and well known Physicians in the southern States, testifies to its great value, ... many others who have been greatly benefited by the use of these Bitters.

JUDGE CHASE AND GEN. GRANT.

It is now pretty certain that the choice of the Radical party, for a candidate for the next Presidency, lies between Chief Justice Chase and Gen. Grant. Those who represent the extreme Radical programme, as well as the political tricksters of the party, prefer Judge Chase, yet, in a clear, straight-out contest, Gen. Grant will get the nomination at Chicago.

The friends of Gen. Grant are, however, lacking political shrewdness and tact, and, we judge, may be out generaled. Such millionaires as A. T. Stewart, W. B. Astor, and other merchant princes and aristocrats of New York, will do to manage the finances, and foot the bills, but if General Grant relies upon the management of the principal bondholders of the Government for success, he will come out at the little end of the horn. The Chase wire pullers will give them two out of five, and beat them in the nomination.

It is now quite evident, that the Southern Radicals will be in at Chicago, knocking at the door of the National Republican Convention for admittance. Should the Chase men be the strongest from the so called loyal States, the Southern delegates will be admitted, and Chase, by consequence, will be the nominee. If, on the other hand, the Grant men should be the most numerous from the Northern States, the Southern delegates will be ignored.

It will be seen, therefore, that Gen. Grant's chances for the nomination at Chicago, are somewhat uncertain. What are his chances for election, if nominated? Viewing the situation as impartially as possible, we are inclined to think his chances are now bad, and must grow worse until the day of election, unless the Democracy should singularly blunder in the choice of a competitor. Our reasons for this opinion are briefly these:

1. Gen. Grant has been brought out too early, and by a class of men, who are re[...] singularly sinister, being very large creditors of the government, and who are more concerned to take care of No. 1, than they are for the general good of the country. They are not in sympathy with the great body of the people, nor the people with them.

2. They manifestly design not to commit Gen. Grant to any political policy, but to run him on his military prestige, (for he has no other,) as the Whigs did old Zach. Taylor in 1848. But Gen. Grant and Zach. Taylor, in their prestige and accompaniments, are as unlike as any two men we wot of, and the times are vastly different.—The political issues of the country absorb the popular feeling intensely and it will increase in intensity, and the importance of those issues to the perpetuity, peace and prosperity of the Republic are too great to be veiled or hidden from the public view by the prestige of any man whatever. Gen. Grant, however reticent, has, we think, clearly committed himself to the Congressional Reconstruction policy. Its execution was committed to men of his choice, and has been carried out, so far, under his sanction and approval. He is undoubtedly a negro equality man, whether on principle or policy we will not say.

3. Gen. Grant's prestige goes no farther back than his war record. It will not do for his friends to uncover his history prior to the war. His fame, and its effect upon the public mind, resemble and are similar to that produced upon the public by Gen. Scott's. Every one thought Gen. Scott a great general, all felt he was great in military matters, but they admired his genius, not the man. Like Grant, he was cold, rigid, lofty and unapproachable to the people. All admired, but none loved him. Not so with Zachary Taylor. His soul melted and mingled with the souls of the people, and the people caught more the inspiration of his simplicity and goodness, than of his greatness.

IT TURNS OUT that the purchase of Alaska has brought slavery again into the nation. A letter to the Cincinnati Gazette states that it is so much of a domestic institution among the Indians of that delightful country, that the wealth of families is estimated by the number of their slaves, and the portion of a bride is stated by the head. It is a little remarkable that the great Sumner, with his keen nose for slavery, did not detect this important fact when he was preparing the material for his voluminous and wearisome speech in favor of the purchase.

THE NEW ORLEANS Times says General Hancock is gradually undoing the mischief done by the subordinate officer who temporarily occupied an important position at the headquarters of the Fifth Military District, restoring to their places worthy officers who had been removed without cause. Gen. Hancock is winning for himself golden opinions from all sorts of people. The [...]es by which a set of corrupt men [...]ged to obtain official positions fo[...]selves in defiance of public opinion [...] all come to naught.

DISENCHANTMENTS.

The Nation, an extreme Northern Radical paper, says that if it were called upon to give the year, which has just ended, a name which should indicate its leading characteristic, with some approach to accuracy, it should call it a year of disenchantment. Of course, it has been remarkable for many other things, but that for which it has been most remarkable, in the estimation of the Nation, has been the magnitude and number of illusions that have perished in it.

Just so. In its outset, in the month of March last, Congress, by a single wave of its necromantic wand, called "Reconstruction," dispelled the illusion, which had existed, unaccountably, for ninety years, that we were living under a written Constitution, which explicitly defined the powers of government, and that there was such a thing as a Union of the States, which could not be destroyed or broken up by anything short of successful revolution.

Nor is this all. By another motion of the magic instrument, presto! black is changed into white, and white into black, so that all the distinctions of color are vanished in an instant. The old illusion, which, somehow or other, has prevailed through nearly all the centuries since the flood, that, in mental and moral aptitudes, in native intelligence, in civilization, and in capacity for government, the negro is the inferior of the white man, is swept away as summarily as a mist before the sun. This may, perhaps, be regarded as the most wonderful of the disenchantments,—establishing that Congressional demonology is apparently superior to anything of the sort ever attempted by the votaries of the black art before.

And yet again waves the wizard stick, and the farcical hallucination is dissipated, in an instant, that there are such things as plighted faith and solemn guarantees. The illusion, particularly, called by some people, by way of facetiousness, "finality," is blown so far away, that it is supposed to exceed even the power of the necromancer himself to recall it.

While these mighty disenchantments have been progressing, on a large scale, in the great National theatre, a series of minor exhibitions have been going on upon the merely provincial boards. Men who, at the beginning of the year, for instance, saw a beast in the negro, have been pounded in a metallic crucible, and have come out believing him a very model of manhood. Small men,—very small men,—have emerged as statesmen, orators and sages, fit for Congressmen, Governors and Mayors. "Rebels" have been commuted into loyal men and scoundrels into saints.

The scene closes with the year. The next lifting of the curtain, however, promises an extraordinary spectacle,—nothing less than the disenchantment of the enchanters. Just as Aaron's rod swallowed up those of the magicians of Egypt, and utterly confounded their devices, we have the prospect before us of seeing that great wonder worker, the People, rebuking our modern pretenders and restoring the ideas of the past.

STATE NEWS.

The Directors of the Newbern Gas Light Company have declared a dividend of six per cent.

—The Wilmington Journal echoes the universal complaint—the scarcity of money. It says:

"The scarcity of money is creating a most deplorable want in this community. Parties having claims have presented them and undertaken their collection so often as to almost wholly despair of success. Merchants and others are now forced to adopt the cash system, and are compelled to adhere to it closely in order that their business may be carried on. In the end it must be successful and beneficial, if there is money enough left in the country to meet the actual necessities of the people for the coming year. When indulgence is granted men are prone to gratify themselves in the obtainment of more than they actually require; but when, on the other hand, a cash outlay is demanded, they are compelled to purchase only that which is absolutely necessary."

—Two more white men announce, through the Asheville News, their withdrawal from the Red Strings.

—We have heretofore inadvertently omitted to mention that Mr. Hanes, of the Salisbury Old North State, has entered into a partnership with Mr. Bruner, of the Watchman, and they will jointly publish the two papers. The Old North State will continue to be issued tri-weekly, and the Watchman and Old North State weekly. This arrangement also embraces the cessation of the further publication of the Salisbury Banner.

—The people of Buncombe County are to vote, to-day, on the County's subscription of $100,000 to the Western N. C. Railroad. In reply to an enquiry from the Governor, as to the qualifications of voters on the question, Gen. Canby replied:

"This question relates to the material and not the political interests of the community affected by the election, and all persons who are assessed or are subject to assessment for taxes, and are qualified as voters under the laws of North Carolina, or under the Reconstruction Acts of Congress, will be entitled to vote on this question of subscribing to the Stock of this Road.

The disqualifications under the Act of March 2d 1867, and the Acts supplementary thereto, are held not to apply to this case."

—The magistrates of Cherokee County have unanimously resolved to subscribe $50,000 to the stock of the Western N. C. Railroad.

A TEXAS DUEL.—A queer duel recently took place in Texas. A gentleman of Houston, who had lost all his family by the late epidemic, and who was himself weary of his bereaved existence, was touched on the shoulder, as he was entering the house, by an aggrieved acquaintance, who requested his company a short distance. Both walked away in silence. Soon coming to an open field, the silent challenger paced off the approved distance, each drew a pistol, [...] few words, "Ready! fire!" the [...]ceed—and ended. NORTH CAROLINA MANUFACTURES.

We are glad whenever it is in our power to notice the signs of improvement and of the division of labor among our [...] The following private letter from [...] friend, E. A. Vogler, Esq., of Salem, we take the liberty of publishing, hoping that he will not object, for the reason that it is calculated to excite a similar spirit of enterprise elsewhere. We have no more public spirited citizen in the State than Mr. Vogler, and we hope to see many of our people imitating his energy as well as that of others in the State. Read his letter:

SALEM, N. C., Dec. 30th, 1867.

Editors Sentinel:—I have been absent from home about a month, having been up about and beyond Boston, prospecting among the Shoe Manufactories, and have purchased a lot of machinery for the purpose of carrying on a Shoe Manufactory here at Salem.

I understand you had an article in the Sentinel on the subject of manufacturing, whilst I was North and did not get to see it. Having a business to occupy my time and means, I have for some time past been trying to get some one else interested in the matter, but in vain. We have as good mechanics as are to be found anywhere, but they are despondent and complain of no work, and I believe that such enterprizes give labor and employment to our citizens, give character to our business communities, and I delight to see each and every move toward introducing all kinds of manufactories.

Aside from my regular business, I have taken Mr. A. T. Pfohl, a young man who has been with me 17 years, and formed a copartnership under the name and style of "Vogler & Co.," to carry on the Shoe Manufacturing business. I have been East to Boston, Lynn, Danvers, Salem, &c., and have purchased new and improved machinery, and I hope in the course of a few weeks to get under way. I have employed two competent Northern workmen; otherwise, I expect to give employment to our own people.

I have been trying to get some one here to try another project. Though a very simple business, I think it would pay and a good thing could be made out of it,—the simple business of broom making. Before the war, our market used to be supplied by home-made brooms, made by colored people, but now you scarcely ever see one. They think it beneath them to do so now and I have regretted to notice this. Some answer we can not get the broom corn, but let farmers turn attention to it and raise it. If there is a market for it plenty can be raised. Very little capital or machinery would be required for such a business. Now, thousands of Northern brooms are brought to North Carolina every season that ought to be made here at home. But I must stop. I did not expect to write about this, but, learning of your article in the Sentinel, some weeks ago, I thought it would perhaps be gratifying to you to know of our project.

Yours very respectfully,
E. A. VOGLER.

The establishment of a Shoe Factory at Salem, we hail as a good omen. Our Thomasville Factories have led the van and they are doing well for themselves and for the State. We hope to see others following in the train. There is no better point in the State for a Shoe Factory and Tannery, with improved machinery and facilities, than Raleigh. Who will start the ball?

Mr. Vogler makes a good suggestion about a Broom Factory. There has been, for years, a Broom Factory attached to the Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, in this city. Better brooms are not made any where. Yet it experiences much difficulty in obtaining the broom-corn. Our farmers ought to make this article plentifully. It will pay better than cotton, at present prices.

POPE.—The National Intelligencer thus dismisses this valiant hero:

"We venture to say that no triumphant tour nor a solitary reception by the people will greet his return. All men are disgusted with his instructions to subordinates to carry out the party behests of the usurping Congress, when they should have been to control their conduct by the supreme laws of the land, which they had solemnly sworn to support. Yet what better could have been expected of one who, during the war, reported the wanton falsehood to the President that he had taken twenty thousand prisoners in Mississippi; who, while in command of the Army of the Potomac, with his "headquarters in the saddle," falsely reported to the President that he had driven Stonewall Jackson to the mountains, when, in fact, the fearful cannonading of that great rebel soldier, as he outflanked the Union army, was heard in Washington on the very day of the date of the dispatch. These damaging facts, taken in connection with the late disclosure, that eminent Generals of the old army were willing to have testified before the tribunal that carried out the behest of Mr. Stanton in convicting Fitz John Porter, that "they would not credit Gen. Pope's statements under oath," convinced most men at the outset of his career in his Southern satrapy, that his administration would be at once wicked, disastrous, and calamitous."

THE LEGAL TENDER ACT.—Probably no subject has been more often discussed than the constitutionality of the act declaring the Federal currency notes, or "greenbacks," a legal tender in all payments; and yet, though the act was passed long since, and though very many excellent jurists have disputed its validity, the matter has never received a decisive adjudication. A cause, however, is now being argued before the United States Supreme Court which, it is thought, will elicit a decision of this vexed question. The case comes up from Oregon, whose statutes require payment of taxes collected by the Sheriffs to be made in coin to the several counties, by whom, in turn, they are paid into the State Treasury. The Sheriff in this case having paid the amount collected by him in currency to the county, alleges that he has thereby made a valid tender. The argument will be resumed on Monday next by Mr. Reverdy Johnson. The magnitude of the question involved, and the great abilities of the distinguished advocate, combine to secure for this cause an unusual degree of attention.—National Intelligencer.

The end of the Paraguayan war is announced, the Paraguayans completely exhausted, having asked for a suspension of hostilities. After a contest of two years and a half, which has frequently been very bloody, this war is happily at an end, and with the restoration of peace, of which there is so fair a prospect, it is stated that the free navigation of all the Brazilian waters is to be opened to the world.

A proposition is reported to be before the House Committee on Military Affairs to re[...]ular army, the first heavy re[...] place when the first South[...] to representation, and [...] the military [...]

[...] of furnish[...] South [...] Gen. Ord's [...] the Gene[...] been occupied [...] deavoring to ascertain [...] possible the real situation of the Southern States in regard to the reported want of food, and while he is not inclined to believe affairs in such extremity as the Southern press indicates, he is still of the opinion that the Government should at once extend aid both to relieve present want and to guard against a worse state of affairs than now exists.

A gentleman from Charleston yesterday presented a plan for his consideration which has been endorsed by many prominent citizens, and has received the approval of Gen. Canby so far as its general features are concerned. It provides for a loan of thirty millions of dollars, to be issued in small sums to planters and others in need, to bear six per cent. interest, both principal and interest payable in currency, and secured by mortgage on the land and by a lien upon the crops.

This plan has been submitted to General Grant by General Howard, with an endorsement, approving the idea of supplying Government aid of some kind, but giving his opinion that a better plan to relieve present wants would be to purchase provisions and issue them to all in want, keeping an account of the actual cost to our authorities, and to take a lien upon the crops for the amount. Gen. Howard thinks that such supplies could be distributed at small cost by civilian agents selected from among the best known citizens in each section, who would be willing to act without pay for the sake of obtaining relief for the district in which they reside.

It seems likely that speedy action of some kind will be taken by our authorities in this matter, even if it be of a temporary character, to relieve suffering until Congress can take the subject in hand and authorize such expenditures as the necessities of the case demand.—Wash. Express, 28th.

THE ROBBERY OF THE BANK MESSENGER IN WALL STREET.—About eleven o'clock yesterday morning, while Superintendent Kennedy was sitting in his office, at Police Headquarters, engaged in conversation with Smith Ely, Jr., and others, in relation to an alleged abduction of a man named Gill, from Troy, New York, a boy entered, carrying a bundle wrapped in a newspaper.—The parcel was about twenty-eight inches in length, and four or five inches in diameter. Handing it to Mr. Kennedy, the boy remarked: "This is for you, Mr. Kennedy."—"What is this, and where did it come from?" asked Mr. Kennedy. "A gentleman at the Astor House directed me to give it to you," was the reply of the lad. "Who is the gentleman?" "I don't know, sir," was the reply of the lad. Mr. Kennedy, thinking it was a Christmas present from a friend, laid the parcel on the table and resumed his conversation, and the boy left.

About half an hour after the Superintendent took up the parcel to examine his supposed Christmas gift, when, to his surprise, and that of every one present, he found it to contain $3,682,435,61, in checks and drafts, which were stolen from the messenger of the Bank of the State of New York, on the morning of the 13th instant, in William street, near Wall.

The amount stolen was $3,682,521,61, of which only eighty six dollars were in currency.

Superintendent Kennedy immediately sent information of the recovery of the property to the officers of the bank at their residences. If the Superintendent had not been considering an important business matter at the time, he would have opened the parcel and arrested the boy, which might possibly have led to the discovery of the thieves.—N. Y. Post.

THE TEXAS ELECTION.—The New Orleans papers publish General Hancock's order appointing the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th of February next for an election in Texas, to determine whether a Convention shall be held, and to elect delegates to form a constitution. The order comprises eleven sections, and prescribes various regulations for the officers appointed to conduct the election proceedings. The seventh section orders that a "full and fair opportunity" be given to every man entitled to vote to deposit his ballot, and that everything be done requisite to secure a full and impartial expression of the opinions and wishes of the voters. The sixth section orders the most careful counting and making up of the returns. Separate lists are to be kept of colored and white voters. General Hancock announces in his order that the total number of registered voters in Texas is 104,259. Of course 52,130 votes must be cast for the Convention in order that it may be called, and there are only 47,430 registered negro voters in the State.

A SUGGESTION.—It is suggested by the Southern Opinion, that, as the ten Southern States have been Africanized in all but names, they also receive African names—that in referring to them, use shall be made of the geographical nomenclature of Africa. Blot out the glorious and precious names of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas from our maps and statutes, and write in their places Hayti, North and South Guinea, Dahomey, Ashante, Sahara, Borneo, Congo, Soudan and Nigritia.

—The Republican party is completely demoralized and falling to pieces. No state of things can take place to prevent its disgrace. The Conservatives will next year carry all the Northern and Western States, with three or four exceptions. The "handwriting is on the wall." I have closely observed political matters for forty years, and have never before witnessed so great a change in public opinion. Be of good cheer, and we can save our dear old mother Virginia. The hour of our deliverance is coming.—Wash. Cor. Rich. Dispatch.

CONSERVATIVE ORGANIZATION IN MISSISSIPPI.—In the Mississippi Index a call from the Central Executive Committee appears, summoning a Convention of the Constitutional Union party of Mississippi to meet in Jackson on the 15th of January next, for the purpose of "thorough organization, consultation, and action." All citizens of the State who are in favor of peace and Union under the Constitution, regardless of former political associations, are invited to send delegates.

Agents Wanted For The GRAY JACKET AND HOW THEY LIVED, FOUGHT AND DIED FOR DIXIE WITH Incidents and Sketches of Life in the Confederacy.
Comprising Narratives of Personal Adventure, Army Life, Naval Adventure, Home Life, Partisan Daring, Life in the Camp, Field and Hospital, Together with the Songs, Ballads, Anecdotes and Humorous Incidents of the War for Southern Independence.
There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embellished in romance or poetry, which is a real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service.
The Valiant and Brave Hearted, the Picturesque and Dramatic, the Witty and Marvelous, the Tender and Pathetic, and the whole Panorama of the War are here thrillingly portrayed in a masterly manner, at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most ample, unique, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.
Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skilfully interwoven in this work of literary art.
Send for Circulars and see our terms, and full description of the work. Address, JONES BROTHERS & CO.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR LABORERS.—Many laborers, perhaps, both black and white, will find it difficult to obtain employment in the fields. Shall they, therefore, be idle? We hope not. All must work and work vigorously, to improve our condition.

We are glad to learn that our fellow-citizen, Rev. J. K. Howell, of this city, is making arrangements to go into the staves business. The lines of the Raleigh & Gaston and the North Carolina Railroads offer large advantages to go into this business.—We learn that box cars, which will carry 3,000 staves, each, can be chartered from this city to Norfolk at $34, each, for the trip. If so, our opinion is that it will be very profitable to make staves at any point on the Railroads, of both white and red-oak.

If any person desires to go into the business, let him open a correspondence with any of the Norfolk or Portsmouth Commission merchants who advertise in the Sentinel, asking specific instructions as to the length, width and thickness of the several kinds of marketable staves, with price, &c. Then let him obtain a good stave-getter, white or black, from Northampton, Bertie, Gates, Hertford, or Chowan, where the business is well understood. One good hand will learn common hands in a few days how to get them. The tools required cost but little. Where men do not own the timber, let them purchase it at fair rates from the owners. It is a cash business, and the money will be coming in as fast as one can get two or three car loads to market. But it should be managed well, with at least one good employee who understands it.

LIF INSURANCE.

[From the Insurance Monitor and Wall Street Review, New York.]

A Well-deserved Success---The Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The approaching demolition of seven buildings, consisting of the almost immemorial landmark, "Old Guerrin's," the less ancient "Standinger's," and the present office-building of the American Express Company, on the Southeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, together with three adjoining buildings on the latter street, is attributable to that modern insurance giant, the Equitable Life. The seven buildings are all to be replaced by one, six stories in height, including basement, and having a frontage of 86 feet 9 inches on Broadway, and one hundred and thirty-seven feet four inches on Cedar street. A number of the first architects in the country are engaged in perfecting plans of the structure, so as to make it in style, accommodation, and convenience, superior to any other building of the kind [illegible] ted.

The building will, however, not only be made to accommodate the Company, but so arranged that the rental of such part as is not occupied by them will return an interest on the investment. The magnitude and surpassing growth of the Equitable Life not only justify this solid investment, but render it both expedient and necessary. Although the Company has been only eight years in business, its policies issued during the eighth year covered an insurance amounting to [illegible] thirty-five millions of dollars. The total assured by it up to the present day [illegible] ...000,000; its accumulations [illegible] ...000,000; its annual income to three and [illegible] and will in the ensuing year doubtless ex[ceed] five millions dollars.
